

PLANETARY

Mechanical Bull A Million Yesterdays

confirmed:

- NeuFutur: "Received, will review soon. Thanks!" James McQuiston, editor
- Daily News (McKeesport, PA): 01.10.08 review by Jeffrey Sisk appeared in print. A Million Yesterdays received a four out of four star review.
- Kathy Fennessy: 01.19.08 Review appeared in her blog AndMoreAgain.
- Metro Spirit (Augusta, GA): Review appeared in print 01.23. // Chase did phone interview for a live podcast.
- All Music Guide: Album info, album art, artist page updated. Bio updated to include info about A Million Yesterdays. Still pushing for review.
- Cable & Tweed: 02.03.08: Review posted including two mp3's.

recent comments:

- Rock & Roll and Meandering Nonsense: 02.14.08: "It's in the stack, but I haven't given it more than a cursory listen yet. I might be able to check it out next week. I'll let you know." (Bob Lange) passed:

- Courtney Devores (freelancer from Charlotte Observer): "I really like the record, but we usually try to run reviews no later than 2 weeks after release unless we have a really slow week. I didn't realize it was already out when I got it. If they come to town and I can attach it to a show then that would work. I'll definitely keep it in mind if something comes up."
- Mark Jenkins: Passing unless band comes through the D.C. area.
- Metromix New York: Passed on review, as per editor Matt Rodbard
- Mike Hume: Passing unless band comes through the D.C. area.
- Dirty Linen: "We have decided to pass on doing a review." (Susan Hartman)
- The Sun News (Myrtle Beach, SC): Passed on album review. Will consider a preview if Mechanical Bull plays Myrtle Beach.
- Illinois Entertainer: "Got the record but unfortunately our writers passed on t." (Steve Forstneger, music editor)
- Daily Freeman: Passing on review. "I've got a weird situation. David Malachowski is the Freeman's music reviewer. So I can't have him review his own stuff. I made a 'best bet' event out of the CD release party a while back, and we did a story about Woodstock MusicWorks, with the band prominently displayed in it. We will certainly announce all the events the band has around town, as we have done in the past." (Ivan Lajara, Life Department staff)